Strindberg’s Representation of Anxiety in The Father: Between Naturalistic Determinism and Existential Indeterminism
Markus Floris Christensen 261

Henrik Ibsen and Conspiracy Thinking: The Case of Peer Gynt
Giuliano D’Amico 281

When a King of Norway Became a King of Russia: Transmission and Reception of Hrómundar saga Greipssonar in Scholarly Networks of Early Modern Scandinavia
Katarzyna Anna Kapitan 316

Sweden, Inc.: Temporal Sovereignty of the Realm and People from the Middle Ages to Modernity
Wojtek Jezierski, Sari Nauman, Thomas Lindkvist, and Biörn Tjällén 352

Reviews

William Banks 382

Erika K. Jackson 386

Ivan Z. Sørensen. Blixens humor.
Susan C. Brantly 389

Emily Lyle, ed. Myth and History in Celtic and Scandinavian Traditions.
Matthias Egeler 391

Herman Bang. Some Would Call This Living.
Leonie Marx 395