The Society for the Advancement of Scandinavian Study is an association of scholars and others interested in the cultures of the Nordic countries: Denmark, Finland, Iceland, Norway, and Sweden. Founded in 1911, the Society for the Advancement of Scandinavian Study has as its objectives: the promotion of Scandinavian study and instruction; the encouragement of original research in the fields of Scandinavian languages, literatures, history, culture, and society and the provision of a medium for the publication of the results of such research; and the fostering of closer relations between persons interested in Scandinavian studies.

The journal Scandinavian Studies (ISSN 0036-5637; e-ISSN 2163-8195) is a rigorously peer-reviewed scholarly journal that focuses on the languages, cultures, and histories of the Nordic region, including the countries Denmark, Finland, Iceland, Norway, and Sweden. It is an interdisciplinary journal spanning work in the humanities and social sciences, and as such serves as an outlet for original research in the languages, literatures, histories, cultures, and societies of the region, ranging from medieval to contemporary times.

Submissions to Scandinavian Studies are welcome on any topic related to the languages, cultures, or societies of the Nordic region, past or present. The submission process is electronic. Information and guidelines for submissions to Scandinavian Studies can be found at https://sca.uwpress.org/content/authors. Please address your questions to the editor at editor@scandinavianstudy.org.

Book reviews are solicited by the Book Review Editor. The journal also welcomes expressions of interest from potential reviewers of new or forthcoming academic titles. Please address your questions to the book review editor at reviews@scandinavianstudy.org.
